

This month we will do an author study on Jan Brett and her books The Hat and The Mitten. It will help us learn more about the way books work ("concepts of print,") and authors and illustrators.

We are also going to start our "Not-A-Box" project. This is one of my favorite projects because it really encourages each child to plan, collaborate and stretch their thinking and creativity. I will share more on that as we get started.
